

Transport

The transport model contains two sub models: passengers and freight. They are independent one to each other. Each submodel computes the energy demand divided per type of fuel. This energy demand is multiplied by the specific emissions of each fuel ($\text{Emissions}/P_{\text{fuel}}$) in order to obtain the total emissions from transport.

From:

<http://wiki.energyscope.ch/> -

Permanent link:

<http://wiki.energyscope.ch/doku.php?id=en:transport>

Last update: 2019/10/22 09:17